

A Reminder from Regional Manager Dwaine Brown

Erosion eats at our flag! Why? To answer, let me provide this background. As a member of the United States Navy too many years ago, I often spent months on board ship, and, on returning to the United States, we sailors were greeted with welcoming bands, and we had no fear that our country's boundaries would have been violated.

Well, 9/11 changed all that, but it could have been worse had it not been for the courageous efforts of the 40 people on Flight 93 who valiantly struggled against the terrorists and chose to cause their airplane to crash, rather than to allow the terrorists to take over the airplane and to do, they did not know, what kind of damage!

So here we stand at a crossroads, remembering their valiant effort by creating a monument to them, with a bit of bickering among those who want to see this monument created. Just read this past week's newspapers to see thereport of bickering.

But we Moose don't bicker! Remember the old Ritual in the part of Orator, ". . . Strong and majestic, the Moose is unique . . . "?

Well, that's still true of the Ohio Moose! We don't care about the strong and majestic part; we just get the job done! Well, we need to "git-r-done!" Let's get behind the efforts of the unselfish ones of the Flight 93 Committee. Let's prove to our Ohio veterans of all armed forces that we support their actions!

How can we do this, you may ask? One answer, provided by Moose International, is to promote the "Flight 93" Necktie Campaign. This campaign brings all Moose, not just Ohio Moose, together in a "common cause." (That's familiar, eh?) Call me, if you need help in buying the Flight 93 Tie Campaign.
